Introductory

The present volume for 1957 is the 3rd edition of Henderson's Directory of Portage La Prairie. The work embodies a complete epitome of the civic, commercial, social, and industrial interests and activities of the municipality. It is a modern Directory in all parts and includes all essential features which have proven so satisfactory to our patrons in previous issues; these have been retained and amplified and improvements have been added as suggested by experience in order to add to the value and usefulness of the Directory, thus fully meeting the requirements of patrons; the approbation and continued patronage accorded the work are constant incentives to better service.

The publication has had the benefit and advantage of the complete organization and resources of the publishers, and of the skill and experience of their corps of enumerators and compilers added to the courteous co-operation of citizens, in the production of the volume.

THE DEPARTMENT OF MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION

THE DEPARTMENT OF MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION starting on page 7 contains information about Civic History and Industry, as well as a complete list of Apartment and Business Blocks.

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE starting on page 25 features the names of all streets and avenues arranged alphabetically and numerically, giving the location, number on the street, and showing the occupant.

The intersecting streets are shown in the order that they come.

△ Denotes that there is a Telephone in the house.

♦ Denotes that someone living in the house is the owner.

THE ALPHABETICAL DIRECTORY

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of citizens, business firms and corporations starts on page 53.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY at the back of the book exhibits the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional names, compiled under headings appropriate to the class of industry or profession followed.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE POPULATION, estimated at 10,500

The Directory estimate of population is based on the actual number of individual's names in the Alphabetical section of the Directory, with due allowance for children and for women whose names are not listed. The Portage La Prairie Directory covers considerable territory beyond, but tributary to the city limits, which is canvassed in order that the names of all people employed or who purchase in Portage La Prairie may be obtained.

ADVERTISING PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

An important function of the Directory is to set forth the characteristics and advantages of the city as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site, and as an educational centre. The Directory acts as a mirror, reflecting all that is noteworthy in the city in the above respects. In order to spread this information regarding the city broadcast over the country, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in the directory libraries, where they are readily available for reference use by the public. There they serve as perpetual advertisements for business men the country over realize that the City Directory represents the community as it really is.

The publishers take this opportunity of thanking the citizens for valuable assistance rendered in the way of furnishing information concerning themselves, their friends and their business interests for this Directory, and also the public-spirited and progressive business and professional men for support given in the way of patronage.

Respectfully,

The Publishers,

HENDERSON DIRECTORIES LIMITED.

January, 1957.

PUBLISHERS' NOTE

The information in this directory is gathered by an actual house to house canvass, and is compiled in a way to insure maximum accuracy.

The Publishers cannot and do not guarantee the correctness of all information furnished them nor the complete absence of errors and omissions, hence no responsibility for same can be or is assumed.

The Publishers earnestly request the bringing to their attention of any inaccuracy so that it may be corrected in the next Directory.

Portage la Prairie

ORIGIN AND BACKGROUND

(By Courtesy Manitoba Government Department of Trade and Industry)

The city of Portage la Prairie is situated on the banks of the Assiniboine River, fifty-eight miles west of Winnipeg. Its origin dates back to 1738 when La Verendrye built Fort la Reine, and the name is derived from the French fur traders who crossed from the Assiniboine River to Lake Manitoba at this point.

The Hudson's Bay Company built one of its western fur trading posts, in 1882, two miles from the centre of the present city; but the first real settlement dates from 1854. The spirit of freedom and individuality of the first settlers is illustrated by the setting up of the short-lived "Republic of Manitoba," by a Thomas Spence in 1868.

Portage la Prairie has always been an important transportation centre with the river offering the easiest access to the west for the early fur traders and settlers. As early as 1870, it was a promising village of 130 and a steam flour mill had been erected. The Canadian Pacific Railway mainline reached Portage in 1880 and by the following spring the population had doubled to more than 800 persons.

The little village grew rapidly during the latter part of the nineteenth century and very slowly up to the beginning of the second world war. The large military and air force training establishments sparked a period of growth which slackened with the cessation of hostilities. During the past two years, the city has enjoyed a resumption of growth and a prosperity unparalleled in its history.

NATURAL RESOURCES AND SOILS

The Portage la Prairie soils support a diversified agriculture that is the basis of the city's economy. An important local brick-making industry is based upon the excellent brick clays found in the district. The Delta Marshes, on Lake Manitoba, supply unlimited quantities of reeds for a building board industry.

The surrounding district constitutes the well-known "Portage Plains," famed for excellent soils and productive farms. Stone-free, typical deep black-earth soil types prevail on the lacustrine and alluvial deposits which cover the smooth plain that extends east, north and west of the town. North of the Assiniboine River, heavy fine loam soils of the Portage soil association have developed on delta and stream levee deposits, which are interspersed with limited areas of Morris clay. Westerly, the slightly solonetzic Burnside soils have developed on brownish-drab silty clay. Black summerfallow on these various soils, when moist, looks like black velvet. South of the Assiniboine River and to the east, the Oakville soils of high fertility, occur as juvenile soils on recent levee and on flood plain deposits.

Together the Portage, the Burnside, and the Oakville soils have been responsible for the enviable reputation held by the district.

To the southeast, the blackearth plain grades into the lower Assiniboine Delta. Here the Almasippi soils on sandy delta deposits are characterized by moist substrata, and although the sandy textures pre-dispose to soil drifting if the surface soil is exposed, the moist subsoil and substrata provide sub-irrigation that favors the growth of grasses, legumes, feed crops and tree cultures of which the principal field crops are barley, wheat and oats. The livestock within the area is also very valuable.

CLIMATE

Manitoba's climate is determined, partly, by its geographical location and, partly, by the Rocky Mountains. Since it is in the centre of a continental land mass, it is subject to extreme temperature variations. The winters are cold and the summers are hot.

The Rocky Mountains present a barrier to the moisture laden winds from the Pacific Ocean. The result is that nearly all their moisture is deposited on the western side of this barrier and, instead of being moisture laden when they cross the prairies, they have lost a large part of their moisture content.

The precipitation at Portage la Prairie averages 17.5 inches, of which 9.2 inches falls during the growing season. The length of the growing season is 144 days. It is determined by the length of time between the last late frost and the first early frost. A frost point of 29.5° F. is regarded as the point at which growth ceases and this temperature is used in determining the length of the growing season.

TRANSPORTATION

The transportation facilities are excellent with the city being served by the main lines of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways. Seven trucking firms and two bus lines provide freight and passenger service.

The twin barriers, created by Lake Manitoba and the Assiniboine River, funnel a substantial portion of Manitoba's east-west traffic through Portage la Prairie. Provincial Highways Nos. 1 and 4 offer all-weather access from the east, north and west, and a number of secondary roads converge on the city.

POWER

The Manitoba Power Commission, a provincial crown corporation, distributes hydro electric energy in Portage la Prairie. Current is obtained from the Seven Sisters, Pinawa and Great Falls plants.

WATER

The water supply is obtained from an infiltration gallery in the bed of the Assiniboine River about $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles from the city. The water is pumped to a filtration plant and, after treatment, is pumped into standpipes of 300,000 and 240,000 gals. capacity.

There are 1,450 domestic services, 230 Commercial services, 732 meters and 195 hydrants on the distribution system which consists of 15 miles of cast iron mains. Consumption is about 1,000,000 gallons per day with pressure maintained at 35 pounds per square inch.

POPULATION

There were 8,511 persons living in the city of Portage la Prairie at the time of the 1951 census. The Dominion census for June 1956 shows the population as 10,375 and estimated population for December 1956 is 10,500.

MARKETS

The boundaries of Portage la Prairie's trading area lie about 15 miles to the north, east and south of the city and about 30 miles to the west and northwest. There are over 30,000 people living in the city's trading area.

Portage la Prairie, and most of its trading area, lie within the boundaries of census division number 6. Residents of this census division enjoyed a per capita income of $1,413, in 1951—one of the highest in the whole province. The personal income of the people living in the city's trading area was $28,260,000 for that year.

FINANCIAL SERVICES

Five of Canada's banks have branches here; they are the Bank of Montreal, the Bank of Nova Scotia, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Imperial Bank of Canada and the Royal Bank of Canada.

The headquarters of the Portage la Prairie Mutual Insurance Co. is located in the city. It handles fire and personal property insurance. There are thirty-two agents, holding certificates of authority under The Manitoba Insurance Act, residing in the city.

The Portage la Prairie Credit Union was organized in 1944 but, until recently, it has been operating on a limited scale. It has 168 members. Since its inception the society has loaned $110,000, mostly in small personal loans.

MANUFACTURING AND PROCESSING

Portage la Prairie is the fifth most important manufacturing centre in Manitoba.

The garment industry employs the largest number of workers; nevertheless, the manufacturing and processing of agricultural products are the most important industries.

One of the largest brick kilns in Manitoba is located in the city. The bricks are made by a stiff mud process and are distributed from Ontario to Edmonton, Alberta, with the bulk of production going to Ontario and Saskatchewan.

The butter manufactured in Portage la Prairie is shipped in bulk to Winnipeg and sold through brokers. The processing of dried peas is an important local industry. One plant handled over 210,000 bushels of peas and 20,000 bushels of wheat for export in 1953. Each spring from ten to fifteen thousand bushels of flax and 300,000 pounds of sweet clover seed are cleaned.

The manufacturing of agricultural implements and parts has been an important local industry for twenty-one years. This industry has been augmented by the establishment of a branch of an American organization which will manufacture parts for, and assemble, self propelled swathers and spraying and dusting equipment.

A recently established industry, and the only one of its kind in Canada, involves the manufacture of building panels from reeds which grow on the Delta marshes—fifteen miles north of the city. The reeds are picked from the marshes with grain type binders. At the factory they are compressed into five by eight foot panels by ten-ton machines. The panels may be used for interiors or exteriors. They are popular with builders owing to their low cost and high insulating qualities.

Although it is not a commercial manufacturing industry, the flax fibre plant is locally important. The Fibre Division of the Canadian Department of Agriculture conducts tests of new varieties of flax to determine their adaptability and relative economic return as compared with other crops. The mill at Portage la Prairie is well equipped for experimental and investigational work on the utilization of linseed flax straw and fibre straw both commercially and on a laboratory scale.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

Municipal taxes in the city are comparatively low with the general tax rate at 60 mills.

A substantial building program has been carried out in the city since the end of the war. During the four year interval from 1948 to 1951, inclusive, building permits having a value of $2,775,000, were issued.

A comparison of the values of the increases in new construction and assessments reveals that new buildings are assessed at a fairly low rate.

A seven man detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Force, under a staff sergeant, is stationed in Portage la Prairie.

The fire brigade has fifteen members, seven of whom are fully paid, including the chief. Three of the permanent members and one volunteer reside at the fire station.

Equipment includes a Seagrave automobile combination pump, hose car, and chemical engine rated at 500 gallons per minute, at 120 pounds pressure; an American La France automobile combination pump and hose car rated at 500 gallons per minute at 120 pounds pressure; a Chevrolet one and one-half ton motor truck with hose body, 230 gallon booster tank, Viking pump and 33 gallon chemical tank of the soda and acid type.

Fire alarm boxes, indicated by red lights, are distributed throughout the city. A telephone is reserved for fire calls only.

SOCIAL SUPPLEMENTS

The educational facilities in Portage la Prairie consist of two elementary schools with seven rooms, one ten-room elementary and junior high, one sixteen-room elementary and junior high and one twelve-room collegiate institute at which elementary grades are also taught. Thirty-seven teachers are employed to instruct the elementary grades. The collegiate staff numbers fourteen. At the Collegiate Institute, the Manitoba Department of Education, fifty per cent commercial course is being taught, in addition to regular academic courses. The commercial course commences with Grade X and runs through to Grade XII.

Hospital accommodation is provided by the Portage la Prairie General Hospital. The hospital has 70 beds and is staffed by 71 employees including 9 registered nurses and 27 student nurses. Consideration is being given to the formation of a hospital district and the erection of a new 70-bed hospital.

There are fifteen churches in the city. The religions represented are Church of England, United Church, Roman Catholic, Presbyterian, Greek Catholic, Baptists, Greek Orthodox, Lutheran, Jewish, and Mennonite.

The Local Council of Women, in co-operation with the City Council, operate and maintain a 10,000 volume library. It has recently been remodelled and moved to new quarters in the City Hall.

Recreational facilities in Portage la Prairie are unsurpassed by those of any other city of its size. The Portage la Prairie Fair celebrated its eightieth anniversary in 1952. The fair features races, midway attractions and vaudeville, as well as agricultural exhibits and displays by local businesses. The track is regarded as a test track by top racing men all over the continent, with the result that the Portage Fair features some of the finest harness racing to be found anywhere.

The Delta marshes offer unsurpassed hunting grounds for duck shooting. Each year hunters come from all parts of the continent to enjoy the sport. A sanctuary is maintained by Ducks Unlimited to ensure that the duck population won't be depleted.

Delta Beach, north of the city, is becoming a popular resort. Island Park is regarded as one of the best natural municipal parks in the province. Other facilities include a nine hole golf course, tennis courts, swimming pools, boating, Gun Club, Flying Club, Outboard Motor Club, skating and curling. Special events include an Old Time Fiddlers contest in the Fall and a Bonspiel in February. Service Clubs include the Canadian Club, Chamber of Commerce, Elks, Lions, Rotary and Royal Purple.
